EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Richard Chinn on October 17, 2007.

The application has been amended as follows:

In line 17 of claim 1, after "constituent fatty acids" delete the period and insert -- wherein said cleansing composition exhibits a pearlescence stability of at least 1 month
at 50°C at a pH of 3.8.--

In line 17 of claim 3, after "constituent fatty acids" delete the period and insert --
wherein said cleansing composition exhibits a pearlescence stability of at least 1 month
at 50°C at a pH of 3.8.--

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: Applicants have claimed a process for preparing a cleansing composition and a cleansing composition according to present claims 1 and 3 respectively. The examiner is persuaded by applicants' argument that the specific process presently claimed, where ingredient A is suspended in a liquid, and is then contacted with a molten ingredient B such that ingredient B is deposited on ingredient A, is not taught by the prior art.

Art Unit: 1796

Heretofore, the examiner has maintained that a molten mixture of ingredients A and B, upon cooling, would result in the composition claimed, but accepts applicants' argument that this mixing and cooling process will not result in the composition claimed by applicants. Furthermore, with respect to the composition, the examiner is persuaded that the claimed composition is different from the compositions of the prior art. Note that on pages 15 and 16 of the present specification, compositions prepared according to the process of the present invention results in superior stability under acidic conditions. Such stability is not attained by a composition prepared by a typical mixing process. Accordingly, the present claims are allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
